

Legal Associate

Williams & Jensen

Williams & Jensen, PLLC, a Washington, D.C.-based law and lobbying firm, is seeking a legal associate. The focus of the associate's work will be on legislative, regulatory, and judicial matters related to financial services, tax- and fiduciary-related retirement issues, and pensions, among other legal and policy issues including environmental liability matters. Experience in these specific areas is not a requirement. However, the candidate should be prepared that his/her primary scope of work will be devoted to these areas. The ideal candidate is a licensed lawyer with 2-3 years of professional experience, excellent legal research skills, as well as the ability to draft documents and articles that explain complex legal issues in layman's terms. Depending on experience, the position offers a range for an annual salary between $90,000 to $120,000. The position also offers benefits, including health insurance.
