

We are pleased to assist our client, the State of Utah School and Institutional Trust Funds Office (SITFO) in finding their next Senior Investment Analyst. SITFO is an independent team of investors working to create a brighter future and more equitable present for Utah's education programs. As of June 30, 2022, SITFO held AUM of just over $3.2 billion.

The Senior Investment Analyst will be joining a high-functioning and collegial investment team playing an integral role in the investment process, including diligence on new and existing public and private equity investment managers. Team members are expected to bring the skills and experience necessary to make quantitative and qualitative assessments of investment teams and strategies, participate in portfolio construction discussions, and present to the Board of Trustees. This person will work closely with the Director/CIO and other investment staff members. The Senior Investment Analyst is expected to be, above all, a team player who is a hands-on contributor that supports the continued intellectual growth of the office.
